Charles-Town, October 27.

WE have long since been informed, that the grand French Fleet of Count d'Orvilliers, sailed out Brest on the 3d of June last, then consisting of 28 Ships of the Line; that on the 7th it was joined by two more Ships from Toulon, and soon after by two others from Rochefort; so that it consisted, on the 29th, of 32 Ships of the Line, 12 Frigates, 5 Corvettes, and 5 Fire-ships; and that, on the 23d of June, the grand Spanish Fleet, consisting of 32 Sail of the Line, also sailed from Cadiz, in three Divisions, one of ten Ships, under the Command of of Don Lewis de Cordova, and another of like Force, commanded by Don Antonio d'Ulloa, who were to join 6 Ships of the Line from Toulon, under M. de Sade, in Le Triomphant of 80 guns; and that after the Junction, the whole was to be under the Direction of the oldest Spanish Admiral. That the third Division, consisting of 12 Ships, under the command of Don Michael de Gaston, was to join a Squadron of 10 more Ships from Ferrol, commanded by Don Antonio Darce; and that these were to unite with the Fleet under Count d'Orvilliers. We also knew, that embarkations of Troops had taken place, at the time those Fleets sailed, both in France and Spain; and that large armies were assembled on the Coasts of France, in Normandy, between Calais and Boulogne, and in Roussillon and Provence; that an amazing Number of Transport Ships, Boats for debarking, and every Preparation for several Embarkations were in complete Readiness the beginning of July.—Now we learn, that the several Junctions of Fleets having been formed, they had already taken 18 British Privateers of considerable Force; blocked up the British Fleet in the Ports of the Channel; besieged Gibraltar and Port-Mahon. And that the latter End of July, the French were embarking 46 Battalions of Foot with 8 Regiments of Dragoons, to make a Descent on Ireland; while another was to be made in England, which would alarm the City of London itself.

The Marquis d'Almodavar set out from England on the 20th of June on his Return to the Court of Madrid. But the Minister of the Two Sicilies still remained in London: It had however been suggested to him, by that Court, as well as to the Minister of the Republic of Genoa, that, if their Courts continued to persist in their present Conduct, they could not but be considered as Enemies.

The Pope has issued an Edict, commanding all his Subjects to observe the strictest Neutrality, with respect to all Ships of War or Merchant Vessels that may enter the ports of the Ecclesiastical State, during the Continuance of the present War between Great-Britain, France and America; also prohibiting his said Subjects from arming, or being concerned in armed Vessels, or entering into the Service of either of the belligerent Powers, under a Penalty of 5000 Roman Crowns; forbiding them to furnish either of them with Munition of War; and authorising his Governors of Ancona and Civita Vechia to determine, without Appeal, the Legality of all Prizes that may be brought into those Ports, and settle all Differences relative thereto.

By a Vessel arrived at Newbern in North-Carolina, the 7th Instant, in a short Passage from Cadiz, certain Accounts were received, that Gibraltar was besieged, and blocked up by 20 Men of War, and that all Communication with the Garison, consisting of 7000 Men was cut off.

We have before mentioned, that the aggregate Loss of all our military Corps, in the Assault upon the Lines of Savannah, on the 9th inst. did not exceed 150 killed and wounded: Our Allies the French, we are told, have lost near treble that Number. The Reduction of Savannah, is suspended to a more distant Period than was at first imagined, on Account of some other Operations, which could not be longer deferred.

Extract of a Letter from an officer in the Army to his Friend in this Town, dated Lower Salem, near New-York, Sept. 8, 1779.

"——I shall now subjoin some Intelligence, brought this morning by one of our Emissaries from New-York.——The Heads of it are as follows:——A Packet arrived at New-York has spread a Gloom over every Face:——The Southern Army is to be recalled, because of the small Reinforcement received at New-York.—300 Recruits died in Arbuthnot's Fleet, on their Passage,—— those that arrived, sick on Bedlow's Island, except a few at Brooklyn on Long Island. The Army, in general, die fast of putrid Fevers, and the Scurvy.——No Appearance of a Sudden Expedition.——The Packet came fraught with Orders disadvantageous to the Tories, among whom great Anxiety and much Suspicion prevail."....
